

Council Clashes Over Policies; Public Education Advocated

by Sara Emmons
Staff Writer

Several conflicts arose over annexation and drainage fees at the City Council meeting Monday--which stem from problems with city policy. The first started when Councilman Rudolph Castro discussed the easement requested by Wendall Kemp for access to Arroyo Cajun Street.

Castro suggested an easement across the trail system and Councilman Whit Cromwell mentioned present drainage problems from the canal causing danger.

The council agreed to approve the easement without annexation until Councilman Dale Chaput argued strongly against the motion.

"If this were the Kraemer property you wouldn't vote that way, so why do it differently just because it's an individual?"

He added that the trail system, which the council claimed was not used by anyone, "simply had not been developed yet. The Equestrian committee is anxious to use it. The property will be one of the best annexations we will ever have...It seems to me we need to follow a consistent policy regarding annexation and stick to it!"

After brief notation of Chaput's remarks the Council voted 4-1 for approval, without annexation.

A policy concerning drainage fee payment became another sticky issue over not being consistent with policy.

Cromwell questioned the Planning Commission's previous waiver of the requirement of the installation of curbs, gutters and sidewalks on property owned by Harvey Ploghaus on Mountainview.

(At an earlier meeting in June the commission approved his variance, pointing out at that time that no prerequisite was clearly established. The Commission was divided as to whether such improvement at that particular property was necessary.) The approval was subsequently reversed by Council, (a public hearing) arguing that Mountain View between Ohio and Kellogg is "a major local collector street with increasing traffic." And with the opening of the new school, "council claimed, "there would be additional traffic problems."

Although Ploghaus argued he was not aware of appeal, he didn't think it was "fair to pay gutter taxes they may make us pay again later in other places."

Cromwell said, "By allowing waiver we jeopardize the position of others who have paid (subdivision residents). I would like to have the policy adhered to."

Ploghaus mentioned the hazard of gutters at the end of a six foot drop off on his property.

Cromwell again countered, "It's easy to say we don't need improvements, but we should be learning from other cities...such as

Villa Park who had trouble paying for improvements citizens demanded (years after improvements were waived by the city).

And Chaput concluded that the fee for 1.1 acre would be $1500 and if the applicant paid for improvements, it was concurred by the Council, it would amount to approximately $5,000.

Castro moved to deny the variance and request a cash bond, which was voted down by a 3-2 vote approving the original variance. Cromwell and Castro were dissenting votes.

"It's obvious," declared Mayor Ewing, "we need a policy. We're doing an injustice to residents by not doing so."

"But I don't think any real estate agent around comes clean regarding selling property. They usually choose not to inform the buyer...Realtors set bad standards by not telling the cost of putting in curbs and gutters and as a result the city looks like the bad guy, when we're not...We should have an education program to tell people what any city imposes to have these properties developed!" the mayor asserted.

Little League representatives are in disagreement with the city over use (or, as they claim misuse) of the Little League field on YL Blvd.

Jerry Humphrey, YL resident, on the board of Little League, stood before the council and complained that the city allows too many outside organizations to use the property.

"Although its city property, 99 per cent belongs to Little League--backstops, lights....When the city assigns other groups we're in an embarrassing position...You have the right to schedule property usage but not material usage...We want to discuss the city's reasons."

Humphrey said.

The Council voted that Little League will be meeting with the city prior to August 11 to discuss what their rights are from the city's point of view.

Other matters:
--Council named the new shopping center on Yorba Linda Boulevard, 'The Lakeview Center.'

--They protested the tract map 8938 in Placentia, adjacent to Yorba Linda's southerly boundary. Council objects to zoning in that area. The issue, reportedly has been going on since 1972 between the two cities.

--They unanimously approved an easement across El Cajon Canal for placement of a sewer line.

--They denied permission to the Beautification Committee, who requested to make recommendations for regulation of the fireworks stands.

--They approved the determination of the Sphere of Influence for the Yorba Linda County Water District, to coincide with the city's sphere.

LL Stars Big Game Wednesday

Yorba Linda Little League All Stars eliminated Lambert, Murphy Ranch and East Whittier last week to advance to District 56 Championship game which will be played tonight (Wednesday) at 6 p.m. at Golden Hill field in Fullerton.

On Tuesday Yorba Linda disposed of Lambert 6 to 1 behind a 10 hit offensive and Chris Milauckas's pitching. Milauckas started a 2nd inning rally with a double, Don Evans singled, Frank Torres doubled, and John Nero singled.

Hits by David Mesa and Paul Cunningham in the 5th, along with a pair of Lambert errors, plated a pair of runs. Wade Vanderstraten's 6th inning HR was the final score for the winners.

On Saturday Yorba Linda's Scott Groot pitched a 2 hit shut out to beat Murphy Ranch 4-0. Yorba Linda scored 3 runs in the 1st inning on 5 Murphy Ranch fielding errors.

The 4th run was picked up in the 5th inning after a walk to John Nero was followed by consecutive base hits by Paul Cunningham and Groot. Murphy Ranch's only scoring threat came in the 4th inning. However, Yorba Linda quelled the rally with an outstanding double play.

On Sunday Yorba Linda came right back and shut out East Whittier 7 to 0 behind the 1 hit pitching of Chris Milauckas. Chris struck out 16 and only faced 21 batters, in his outstanding performance.

Milauckas's pitching was backed by a 9 hit Yorba Linda attack which was highlighted by Darin Atchley's grand slam HR in the 3rd inning. Yorba Linda also scored 1 run in the 1st and 2 in the 6th to finish out the scoring.

Planners Avoid Setting Precedent

The Planning Commission Wednesday voted to approve the request to relocate the ice vending machine at the shopping center on Imperial Highway and Lemon 50 feet to comply with city ordinance.

They also approved the zoning ordinance for controlling church signing policy, which the city sign abatement policy did not originally cover previously in detail.

Initially, the commission couldn't decide about the request by the owners of Linda Garden Apartments, 4672 Plumosa, to allow their existing sign to remain.

When the owner publicly expressed financial problems and

Paramedics

Five victims of an airplane crash in Anaheim on Friday, July 18, were treated at the scene and also at the hospital to which they were taken by paramedics from the Yorba Linda station.

The light plane crashed shortly before 9 p.m. near Anaheim Fire Station Nine on Nohl Ranch Road.

The paramedics made contact with St. Jude base hospital to begin treatment of the five critically injured persons. Three ambulances later transported the victims to Canyon General Hospital which had been placed on disaster alert.

A team of five physicians and nurses were in the emergency room when the ambulances arrived. Paramedics assisted the staff as they worked for four hours.

One of the victims died and others were placed on the critical list.

The paramedics praised the Anaheim Fire Department for extracting the victims from the plane wreckage and treating them before they arrived. Valuable time was saved as the victims were identified as to the nature of their injuries.

Police Beat

Sunday, July 20

Carol Ann Thomas, 19, of Yorba Linda, Sunday evening thwarted a faint-hearted saddle thief.

Thomas was approaching the tack shed at Evansdale Farms, 4380 Palomino, Yorba Linda, about 9:30 p.m. when she saw a young man leaving the shed with an armful of saddles. "What are you doing with all those saddles?" she asked.

By way of answer, the young man put the saddles down and ran away. Thomas then noticed that the three saddles he had been carrying belonged to her.

Sixteen tires valued at $850 and a cash box containing $17 cash were reported stolen between 10 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Sunday from Nick's Union Service, 17499 Yorba Linda Blvd.

"JOB ECONOMICS TRAINING" (JET), conducted in the office of the Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce, accommodates not less than eight nor more than twelve men and women for the five, two-hour sessions. At a typical session with Discussion Leader Bill OpDyke at the blackboard. Seated, in the back row is Norman Lytal, insurance agent; Sylvia Pena, housewife; Gerald Rost, manufacturer; Vince Jones, dog kennel operator; Judy Jones, housewife; J. find she was not alone.

According to the woman's report to Brea police, she discovered a teen-aged boy clad only in trousers and a ski mask, trying to disrobe her. She rolled over; the boy ran; she roused her brother-in-law, sleeping in another room; and the brother-in-law unsuccessfully gave chase.

The woman's husband had reportedly left for work about 20 minutes earlier.

In the early hours Saturday morning someone smashed a front window at the Yorba Linda Cycle, Mower, and Hobby Shop, 4865 Main Street, and stole three complete skate boards together with an assortment of skate-board wheels and boards.

Loss of goods was put at $140. Loss due to the broken window was put at $170.

Gary R. and Dorothy A. Hollereke, 19751 Caprice, Yorba Linda, returned home last Thursday evening to find one of their three pure-bred German shepherds dead--apparently the victim of poisoning. The Hollerekes speculated that poisoned meat had been thrown into the dogs' pen with the intent of disposing of all three animals. All the meat however was eaten by the one dog.

Burglary was assumed to be the motive.

Enforcement Of Law Topic

A meeting for the Yorba Linda City Council and the Brea Police Department to discuss law enforcement in the city will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, July 28. The public is invited to attend the meeting in the District Library.

"JET" Sessions Probe Economy

To find out what adults of Yorba Linda think about the American private, competitive economic system; (profits, buying power, money, and government...past, present, future...the Chamber of Commerce announced that it would stage five, two-hour sessions of a unique program known as "JET" (Job Economics Training). Each session dealt with one of the subjects mentioned above that make up the U.S. economy.

The Chamber refuses to "preach" to those who enroll in the program. Executive Manager, William K. OpDyke confines his remarks to questions directed to "JET" group participants in a most successful technique of acquiring their answers--all adding up to group agreement as to what is wrong and what is right about the varied aspects of our country's economic system!

"I have noted, over the years," says OpDyke, "that people may listen to speeches, etc.; review visual presentation; read this-and-that; -- but will come away without an understanding of what they have heard, seen, or read. All too many don't bother to vote and say, 'things are hopeless!'"

"Job Economics Training" is an outgrowth of question-and-answer discussion techniques developed during World War II with the close cooperation of the U.S. Government, American private management, and labor.

OpDyke is a surviving member of what was then known as the "Training within Industry" (TWI) team affiliated with the War Production Board and the War Manpower Commission, headquartered at Washington, D.C. in the '40s.

Around $23,000,000 of private and government money was expended on these human development programs. They are credited with being a prime force in our Nation's World War II victory.

"If human conviction is required these days (that this or that is true or false) the "JET" program 'smokes it out' ". asserts OpDyke. The only tools used in "JET" are chalkboard and chalk "No textbooks are used!"

Asks OpDyke, "Whose texts would you use?" When the sessions are over participants are encouraged to read all the tests they can find on the subject of economics!

Patterns for the five two-hour sessions are such that not less than eight nor more than ten men and women can participate successfully at a time. Out of these 8 or 10 folks, some will volunteer to accept a temporary assignment as Discussion Leader for new groups, coached by the original leader until the fledgling leader can take over on his or her own.

"This is known as the multiplier system", introduced by Socrates thousands of years ago. It assures rapid and sound spreading of acknowledged facts. "The program includes an astonishingly unique method whereby the groups' decisions are confirmed in a very special way for those who 'graduate' from 'JET' ". adds OpDyke.

The Yorba Linda Chamber of Commerce foots the bill for this work at its city level. It invites all interested men and women residents to enroll and participate. The sessions are held weekday evenings, usually from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the Chambers well-appointed office on Main Street.

"It is reminiscent of the 'pot-bellied stove - town meetin's' that built and sustained the America of early days when problems were also very rough indeed, but when people had the courage of their convictions and made such convictions known to the world," the Chamber leaders say.

The Ronald Reagan Column

by Ronald Reagan
Copley News Service

If there's one thing that sends Soviet leaders into orbit faster than a Soyuz spacecraft could, it's the mere mention of the name of Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn.

And apparently some of President Ford's foreign policy advisers are so nervous about bruising the sensibilities of the Soviets that they have persuaded him not to meet the man who is considered by many to be the world's greatest living writer and its most profound spokesman for human freedom and morality.

There are two ironies in this.

First, that the White House refusal to see Solzhenitsyn came during the very week the United States was celebrating its independence as the haven of human liberty. And, second, that the Soviets--despite their sweet talk to us about detente--carry on elsewhere a constant barrage of speeches and articles vilifying the United States and its Western allies. Presumably, in the "spirit of detente," we are expected to ignore the worldwide anti-U.S. campaign.

Solzhenitsyn was in Washington the week of July 4 for his first public appearance before an American audience. George Meany and the AFL-CIO sponsored the event, and Solzhenitsyn held spellbound an audience of 2,500, including many dignitaries.

He was frankly critical of Western policy toward the Soviet Union.

He described detente as a "senseless process of endless concessions to aggressors" which can only get worse unless we decide to become visibly firm in our dealings with the Soviets.

No doubt this kind of talk is unsettling to Secretary Henry Kissinger and his diplomatists, but Solzhenitsyn's credentials are hard to deny. He is a Russian who loves his country, but not its government. He understands, certainly better than most Americans, the Russian psyche and Soviet behavior patterns.

White House representatives were conspicuously absent from the dinner. Press Secretary Ron Nessen gave out a succession of reasons why there wouldn't be a meeting between Solzhenitsyn and the President. First, the President couldn't attend the dinner because he was scheduled to be at a party for his daughter.

Then, it seems, there wouldn't be a subsequent meeting because Solzhenitsyn hadn't requested one. Next, Nessen said, the President doesn't ordinarily meet with private foreign personages (he met that very week with Brazilian soccer star Pele).

Then, "For image reasons, the President does like to have some substance in his meetings. It is not clear what he would gain in a meeting with Solzhenitsyn." For "substance," the President has met recently with the Strawberry Queen of West Virginia and the Maid of Cotton.

Finally, the real reason for the snub surfaced: A visit with Solzhenitsyn would violate the "spirit of detente."

Frequently, the West German government uses the phrase "detente without illusions." The phrase suggests that detente offers both hope and danger. Apparently, our government hasn't learned it yet.

If past Soviet behavior is any example, they might even have responded--indirectly--in a positive manner to a Ford-Solzhenitsyn meeting. They might have responded with some signal--however slight--of relaxation of some of the more visible signs of repression. (Remember how they stepped up approvals of emigration of Russian Jews from the Soviet Union about the time the trade bill was being debated?)

On the other hand, the Soviets might have flown into a rage, as the President's advisers feared, and even cancelled the latest grain deal. One thing is for certain, though. They wouldn't have stalked out of the Strategic Arms Limitation (SALT) II talks. The proposed agreement already tilts in their favor.

Policy Stays

An Open Lunch policy for the three high school campuses of the Placentia Unified School District, was quickly continued Monday night, after a brief hearing of problems which beset it last year around the Esperanza High School campus.

The Esperanza privilege, however, will be limited to senior students.

Trustees of the district quickly reapproved the out-to-lunch system, which began as a trial a little over a year ago and despite misgivings of some of the Esperanza neighbors, who had strongly protested earlier this year over high school students loitering in their yards, using their property as a lunch room and leaving trash and refuse.

Residents of two streets emanating from the campus also complained through the school year, of harassment by students and foul language. After the yard of one of the protesting neighbors had been seriously defaced by tire marks, the Esperanza campus was closed for the few remaining days of school. Superintendent of Schools, John Tynes Monday night, told concerned Esperanza neighbors, "We don't intend for students of any of the schools to be a nuisance...we don't want them in the neighborhood making a nuisance of themselves. It's something we'll be watching very closely."

Tynes also outlined that for students of the three schools to participate in the open campus policy, they must first "have their parent's signature in person at the office before it (the privilege) is granted."

Dr. John Parrish, principal of Esperanza, said that any offending students would immediately have their lunch pass revoked "and we only pull it once and it will be pulled for the balance of the year."

"There will be no loitering next year," board vice president Salvador Zavala added to the discussion.

"You can expect some swift surgical action," Dr. William Yates, board president reassured the dubious neighbors.

The unanimous trustee vote to continue the open campus policy, followed recommendation by the three high school principals with Jerry Jertberg, principal of El Dorado High School briefly stating: "During the past year and a quarter that we have had the Open Campus, students have responded to it in a generally positive manner and we have not had much negative feedback from the community."

Eugene Dorn, principal of Valencia High School, stated: "It is my opinion that the Valencia High School Student Body has shown sufficient maturity and cooperation to warrant continuing an open lunch policy for the 1975-76 school year."

Dorn estimated that previous to Open Campus about 15 per cent of Valencia students had gone home to lunch with this number increasing to 50 per cent this past school year.

Dorn continued: "A sampling of a cross section of our merchants showed they felt the open lunch was working satisfactorily and they appreciate the business."

"This year I received fewer telephone calls from community people complaining about students eating lunch on their lawns...Approximately 50 per cent of our lunch problems have been cut this year."

Dorn added that smoking in the rest rooms was decreased 95 per cent, vandalism during lunch, 75 per cent and general misbehavior, 90 per cent. The principal said he felt also that the lunch privilege has added to favorable rapport between students, teachers and administration.

At Esperanza, Dr. Parrish recommended to trustees, that students other than seniors "remain on campus during the lunch period unless they are enrolled in work experience, ROP or medical occupations classes, that meet.... immediately following the lunch period."

Dr. Parrish added that the school would provide students with lunchtime guidelines, and would take prompt action to alleviate concerns of neighbors should they arise.

Rookie Band Wins Prize

Fourteen days after its formation, Bernardo Yorba's stummer school band took first place in the Junior High School Division in West Covina's Independence Day parade, spokesman Nancy Whelan announced recently.

"This is a fantastic way to start the marching season," said band director Gary Wiedeman. "We have all the ingredients to become one of the real powerhouse units in the county."

"This is (Bernardo Yorba's) third season marching, and we already have five trophies."

Drum major for the 38-member band is Harlan Harris; assistants are Andy Cross and Sue Yamamoto. Cher Sanguinet is mascot and Joni Young is banner leader.

Future competitions for the band include Placentia, October 11; and Yorba Linda, November 1.

Family Night At Park

The date is Friday, July 25. The place is the south lawn of Yorba Linda Junior High School. The time is from 7 to 9 p.m. What's happening? The third annual Family Night sponsored by the Yorba Linda Recreation Department.

Family Night is where the entire family brings their dinner and eats at picnic tables set up on the cool, lush grass. Entertainment of various sorts, such as music, singing, dancing plus games for the youngsters is supplied. In addition, ice cream, furnished by Kountry Market, will be served free.

Two hours of eating and fun are offered to the families of Yorba Linda. Everyone is invited. Picnic tables will be set up to handle 200 persons. That's July 25 from 7 to 9 p.m. at Yorba Linda Junior High School.

Fire Department

The Yorba Linda firefighters responded to 26 calls for assistance in the week of July 13-20. They responded to nine traffic accidents involving injuries, nine medical aid calls, treated three heart attack victims, four drug overdoses and fought just one fire.

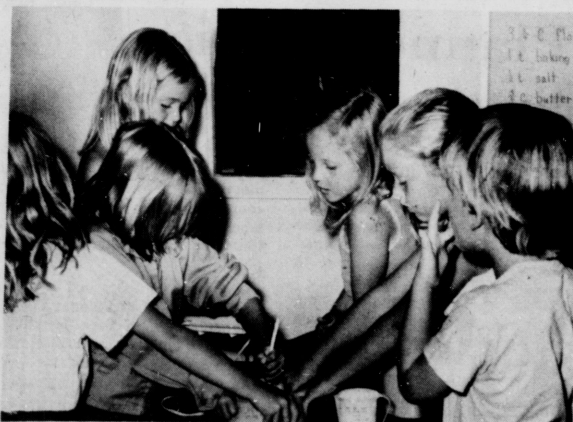

Placentia, Yorba Linda Eye Merger

Members of the Board of Trustees of the Placentia Unified School District Monday night acknowledged receipt of a letter from the Yorba Linda School District indicating that talks might resume on a merger of the two school districts.

Progress previously advanced so far as the Yorba Linda district hiring a consultant to advise them on financial questions that might be pertinent in the merger. Also involved is the Fullerton Union High School District where Yorba Linda students attend upper grades.

James W. Bremer, president of the Yorba Linda Board of Trustees pointed out in the communication that any such action would necessarily involve a Fullerton high school district site, which is in Yorba Linda and the tuition differential that would be charged to the Placentia district by the Fullerton district for the Yorba Linda students attending for a three year period after such a merger.

"The Yorba Linda School District Board of Trustees is now requesting a formal statement of the terms and conditions required by you to reach a satisfactory annexation agreement," Bremer wrote.

Perhaps I shouldn't be "biting the hand that feeds me" but one of my pet peeves over the years has been the legal language which can best be described as "gobbledygook".

Newspapers are exposed to it in practically every edition which they print in the form of legal announcements, required by law to be published. The general public usually runs into excessive legal verbiage in the wording of propositions or referendum questions on ballots.

For some time now this practice has been seeping into reporting, mainly by unedited use of press releases. A glaring example of this came to my attention in a release from the State Department of Motor Vehicles.

What the writers were trying to say was that the department is rotating employees so that they, can gain experience in various aspects of the department.

They couldn't say it that way, it would be too simple and easy to understand. So they said: "...a major departmental reorganization was announced...to cross-pollinate the operational divisions with an exchange of expertise..."

Then the series of moves was described by the Department head "as facilitating interaction among DMV's six divisions".

Most folks will recognize that "pollination" has something to do with flowers and bees but when the word is applied to humans it hardly fits what Webster says, to wit: "To fertilize by transfer of pollen from anther to stigma".

I doubt very much if my mention of the subject in last week's column had anything to do with it but USC has announced a special Metric Workshop designed for teachers of Grades K-12.

The workshop is designed to help teachers increase understanding of the place and value of measure in children's lives, develop specific measurement techniques to use at appropriate grade levels and explore both non-standard and standard measures.

That's fine and dandy but I think adults might like to hear that schools and colleges are going to do something about the problem through adult education programs.

We've all heard of the legendary welfare recipients who "drive up to the office in Cadillacs". Much the same is now being said about some people who use Food Stamps.

However, according to the Neighborhood Adult Participation Project, Inc. in Huntington Park "Food stamps are not welfare".

The organization says that you are almost certainly eligible for food stamps if you are unemployed or on strike. But even if you are working, you may be eligible if you are not making enough money to live on.

You can own your own home, own your car, have $1,500 in liquid assets and still be eligible for food stamps. But you must meet other requirements. Food Action Team reps have been trained by the organization to help a person fill out the necessary forms. For more information call 589-6811, ext. 8.

I have first hand information that what the NAPP says about being able to get food stamps if you are on strike is true so I must believe the rest of it.

On the other hand I heard some official or office holder on the TV news recently who proclaimed that the food stamp program is the "most mismanaged program he has ever seen".

From what I have heard about it I'm going to have to agree as much with him as I did with what NAPP claimed.

Letters To The Editor

Correction On Flag Incident

To the Editor:

Contained in a letter from the Elks Lodge, #2536, of Placentia-Yorba Linda, was the statement that the Valencia High cross country team was involved in the "Flag Abuse" which took place on Santa Fe Street, June 26, 1975. In their haste to bring honor to the flag, they inadvertently brought dishonor to a group of hard working young men, who were in no way involved in this "happening".

The cross-country team is composed of boys of different grade levels, participating in the Placentia summer recreation program. This is not a part of Valencia High Athletic program.

Cross-Country Support

To the Editor:

In last week's Courier, a letter written by the newly formed Elks Lodge #2536 of Placentia, contained some very erroneous and misleading accusations against the cross-country team of Valencia High.

In not researching your information for the true facts of the flag incident, you have put a stigma on a group of fine young men of our community who were not involved.

The letter further adds doubt

These young men do not run in this area of town and have not since 1963.

The Placentia Track Club has in the past brought honor to the city of Placentia. It is hoped that a slur of this type does not hinder the youth participation in this fine community organization.

Respectfully yours, as to the scholastic efforts of our Placentia Unified School District. Let me say in closing that had the lodge done its homework and investigated the real facts, no slur or stigma would have been created. It is only in very rare circumstance that once a stigma is created, very few individuals bother to learn the real facts and absolve the victims of such accusations.

A Superior Court hearing and a study that may end with the County Fire Department absorbing the Placentia Fire Department brings up some interesting points. The hearing today, in Santa Ana, should determine whether the firemen were "locked-out" or "walked-out".

Representing Placentia will be, according to news reports, "the specialist from Oakland" which is a polite way of saying the taxpayer is getting hit again. The expensive, high-powered attorney who has already collected in excess of $68,000 from Placentia, in its battle with the firemen, is coming back for another helping: more jet flights, hotel bills etc., all paid by the courtesy of the Placentia taxpayer and for what? A task that our own City Attorney is well qualified to do, at a cheaper rate, and there would be no costs of planes etc.; he lives in Orange County.

County?

The City Council has ordered a study to determine the feasibility of shifting to the County Fire Department. What a change in attitude.

Two months ago, the firemen formally requested just such a shift to the County, and you should have seen the icy cold reception they got from the City Council. The request was filed with no action, no discussion, not even the courtesy of a refusal.

Therefore, it was disgusting to see in the press an official statement that the city was considering the shift, as though it were a whole, brilliant new idea. It was a cheap shot and one that brought no honor to Placentia's leadership.

If the shift is made it means the costly fiasco of the 8 hour day is nearing an end in Placentia; it means the firemen will be back on a 24 hour shift, it means the battle between the City and the firemen may reach an end; it means, in fact, that the firemen have won.

Now the question comes up: what lever will the City have to get the firemen to drop the huge lawsuit pending in the courts? Hopefully, the City Council will make the shift to the county conditional upon the dropping of the lawsuit. If the shift is not made conditional; it means we, the people of Placentia, have given up our local fire department and still face a possible judgement of several million dollars if the firemen succeed in their suit.

What the cost of this fiasco is to the taxpayer is something no one can fully measure. Those secrets are hidden in complex budgets, the shifting of funds to cover the ever increasing costs of forcing an untried and unproven system upon the City of Placentia.

Its hidden in the heavy wear and tear on fire equipment to train the numerous firemen who stayed briefly and left to be replaced by yet more firemen. Its hidden in the disrupted lives of men who moved their families here in hopes of living and working in a pleasant California city, only to find the firemen's post not worth the emotional strain.

In and Around Yorba Linda

by Judy Goffin

Tom Sheffield was honored by the entire District 56 of the Senior League-Little League when he was awarded their 'Sportsman' Award last week. The trophy is a nice addition to his collection and Yorba Linda is proud that he was chosen out of more than 150 boys in the area.

Attended the Senior Major All Star Game last week-end and the stands were really packed. This year Yorba Linda is hosting the Leagues All Star Games and the turnouts have been great. Our own Yorba Linda team did not go far but the boys enjoyed the playing and the team spirit was good. Now the umpires..... that's another story!

Mayor Caroline Ewing threw out the first ball at the All Star Game. It was an exciting game up until the 6th inning and then Yorba Linda All Stars had problems and lost it on errors.

Yorba Linda Library "Summer Flicks" looks like a good deal. For $2 a ticket you can see 4 classic movies. A great way for a family to enjoy the summer.

This Friday night the Yorba Linda Recreation Department will sponsor their 3rd Annual Family Night at Yorba Linda Jr. High. Starting at 7 p.m. families are invited to bring a summer supper and picnic, on the green at the school. Ice cream will be served free. If that wasn't enough there will be music, magic acts, games, dancing and Barber Shop Quartets for entertainment. The fun will continue until 9 p.m., so bring a sweater and enjoy a pleasant summer evening.

Music Under the Stars at Pearson Park will feature the Long Beach Municipal Band on Friday evening July 25th at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge and the public is invited to attend.

There is a new baby in our town....Neil Arthur Peterson born on June 28th. The boy weighed in at 8 lbs 5 oz. and was 20 inches long. Judy and Rolf Peterson welcomed the new baby along with other sons, Matt age 8 and Eric age 6. Maternal grandmother Selma Peterson who resides in Yorba Linda and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Heaton, of Ventura, were pleased at having a beautiful new grandchild.

Esperanza Water Polo team is getting ready for the fall games with practice scrimmages. It certainly keeps the boys in great shape.

Many of our young people are spending their free time at the Orange County Fair these few weeks, hoping to get ribbons for all the projects they have worked on during the year. I know we will have lots of winners.
